2016 ALL-WEST TENNESSEE CONVENTION RECORDINGS DVD, CD and HD USB Order Form

- Go easy on the atomizer. Many people are highly allergic to perfume and cologne.
- If you bring a child, make sure that etiquette is part of the experience.
- Unwrap all candies and lozenges before the concert begins.
- Turn all cell phones, beepers and watch alarms off. Also, please don't "jangle the bangles".
- Remain silent during the overture - it is part of the performance.
- Lovebirds: Do not lean your heads together; you block the view of the person behind you. Leaning forward also blocks the view.
- Do not talk, hum, sing along or beat time with any body part.
- Wait for a pause or intermission before riffling through a purse, backpack or other bags.
- Do not leave the show while it is still in progress (except for emergency, of course).
- Do unto others as you would want them to do unto you.

Michael Worthy is an Associate Professor of Music at The University of Mississippi, where he directs the Mississippians Jazz Ensemble and teaches undergraduate and graduate instrumental music courses. Under his direction, the Mississippians Jazz Ensemble was selected to perform at the 2012 Jazz Education Network National Conference in Louisville, KY and have been selected to perform at the upcoming 2016 Notre Dame Collegiate Jazz Festival in South Bend, IN. Dr. Worthy has adjudicated music festivals, directed honor groups and presented at conferences across the country, including the Midwest Clinic and the National Association for Music Education. Dr. Worthy has numerous research and pedagogic publications and was recently commissioned by Oxford University Press to write on jazz education topics in the Grove Dictionary of American Music and the Oxford Handbook of Music Education. He earned his B.M.E. and M.M. at Southwestern Oklahoma State University and his Ph.D. in Music Education at The University of Texas at Austin.

Timothy R. Turner is Department Head and Director of Bands in the Department of Music at Xavier University of Louisiana. Dr. Turner received both his B.M.Ed. and his M.A. degrees from Memphis State University and his D.M.A. with emphasis in Music Education at the Rudy E. Scheidt School of Music at the renamed University of Memphis. His Bachelor's degree is in Music Education, while his Master's degree is in Individual Studies concentrating on the performance aspects of orchestral, jazz, commercial music and studio recording. Although the emphasis is in Music Education, Dr. Turner is a certified recording and music production specialist with his focus being composition and MIDI technology. While completing his doctoral studies, he was a student of noted Composer/Educator James Riches, acclaimed Jazz musician/Composer Eugene Allen Rush and Conductor and mentor Sidney Jean McKay. Dr. Turner is a jazz - orchestral conductor/clinician for several school systems, honor bands, and orchestra programs in the mid-south and southern region of the country.

Dr. Turner is a 2013 and 2014 Grammy Nominee in Music Education and has performed with legendary names such as Lena Horne, Nancy Wilson, Barbara Eden, Ray Charles, Aretha Franklin and a host of others. He is an active member of the Music Educators National Conference Association, the Louisiana Music Educators Association, the National Association of Recording Arts and Sciences, and the National Black Music Caucus. Dr. Turner is also a member of the society of Pi Kappa Lambda and also the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Professional Music Fraternities.

Congratulations!

Dr. Anne C. Witt teaches Music Education and strings at the University of Alabama. Her degrees were earned at the University of Alabama (Bachelor's), and the University of Texas at Austin (M.M. and Ph.D.). She taught middle school and high school strings/orchestra in Austin for 15 years and played cello in the Austin Symphony. She was also Director of the University of Texas String Project. She taught music education at the University of Texas at Austin and at UT-Arlington. Dr. Witt has served as President of the Texas Orchestra Directors Association, President of the Alabama ASTA chapter, and National President of ASTA.

Soon after returning to her home city of Tuscaloosa, she led a community initiative to begin string instruction to the Tuscaloosa City Schools. Now celebrating its 10th anniversary, the Strings in Schools program has five full time teachers teaching over 250 students in every secondary school.

Dr. Witt has presented educational sessions for orchestra and band directors in many states, at all ASTA national conventions and at the Midwest Band and Orchestra Clinic. Her presentations include "student tested" teaching strategies on such topics as classroom management, repertoire selection, communication, and motivation. She has been a guest conductor for many All-Region orchestras in Texas, festival orchestras and All-State orchestras. Dr. Witt is author of A Rhythm a Week, used by school band and orchestra classes and private students nationwide.

While in Texas, she was a frequent adjudicator at UIL Orchestra competitions. She has also judged Large Group Performance festivals in Georgia. In 2014, she served as an adjudicator for the ASTA National Orchestra Festival. She continues to play cello professionally in a quartet called "Four Strings Attached."

She is thrilled to be conducting the All-West Junior String Orchestra!

Winifred Crock was the Director of Orchestras at Parkway Central High School for over twenty-five years, and has maintained a private violin studio in suburban St. Louis, Missouri for far longer. During her tenure, Parkway Central High was selected as a GRAMMY Gold Signature school, and the orchestra program garnered much acclaim. Mrs. Crock has been named the Missouri ASTA Private Studio Teacher of the Year, the Missouri ASTA Secondary String Teacher of the Year, the St. Louis Symphony Educator of the Year, and the NFHS Outstanding Music Educator of Missouri. Mrs. Crock is also the recipient of the University of Rochester's Singer Prize for excellence in secondary teaching and the 2014 ASTA Elizabeth Green National School Educator Award.

In demand as a clinician, lecturer and conductor, Mrs. Crock has lectured at numerous music conferences including Midwest, NAFME, ASTA, and SAA conferences and has been the featured string clinician at festivals and conferences in over 20 states, and abroad. In addition to music degrees from SIU Edwardsville and Kent State University, Mrs. Crock graduated from the Suzuki Talent Education Institute in Matsumoto, Japan under the tutelage of Shinichi Suzuki and is a certified Kodály instructor through the Kodály Center of America in Boston. Mrs. Crock, Mr. William Dick and Dr. Laurie Scott, are the co-authors of Learning Together: Sequential Repertoire for Solo Strings or String Ensembles, Alfred Music. They were the recipients of the Suzuki Association of the Americas 2011 Community Learning Award for their work in developing the Suzuki Method in schools. Mrs. Crock is currently completing a beginning reading series called Pattern Play for Strings: A Sequential Introduction to Reading Music, Forrester Press.

Mrs. Crock is dedicated to the betterment of music education for all children.

Maestro Allcott is Director of Orchestral Studies at Tennessee Tech University, where he conducts the University Orchestra and teaches cello. He is also Music Director of the Bryan Symphony Orchestra, Oak Ridge Symphony, and Artistic Advisor for Eastport Strings in Maine.

Allcott's enthusiasm for working with young people is complemented by his work as a professional conductor. In 2010 he concluded a 10-year stint as Music Director and principal conductor of the Atlanta Ballet where led over 250 performances. He has been a guest conductor with major orchestra including the Dallas and Indianapolis Symphonies, and regional orchestras from Maine to California.

Having conducted orchestras since he was 17 he has gone on to success in both the professional and educational settings, and gained recognition as a builder of youth orchestras and educational programs. He is the former Music Director of the Terre Haute and Columbus youth orchestras in Indiana and was Associate Instructor of Instrumental Conducting at Indiana University, where he frequently conducted the University's 5 orchestras and the New Music Ensemble. He is past President of Tennessee's Chapter of the American String Teacher's Association, and is a nationally sought after guest clinician – recently conducting youth orchestras in Nebraska, Texas and Georgia.

Mr. Allcott was named the first Herbert von Karajan Fellow of the American Austrian Foundation at the Salzburg Festival and has been a participant in the Nicolai Malko and Grzegorz Fitelberg competitions in Europe. He is an accomplished cellist with degrees in performance from Drake and Indiana Universities and is a member of the Cumberland Piano Trio.

WTSBOA 2016 HONOREES

EMERSON ABLE JR

Lifelong Memphis resident, longtime saxophone player and Manassas High School band teacher Emerson Able Jr was 84 when he passed away. Mr. Able graduated from Manassas in 1948, served in the United States Army Band and returned to the school to teach in 1957. He was the band director at Manassas from 1957-1980 when he moved to Westwood High School in 1980 and taught there until his retirement in 1987. He also worked as a professional musician, playing in the Isaac Hayes movement — after having Hayes himself as a student at Manassas. His son, Emerson Able III, said his father was well-known for kicking Hayes out of the high school's marching band because he couldn't read music. Mr. Able's honors include Alabama Jazz Hall of Fame member and a Musical Note on Beale Street.

Mr. Able's relatives remember him for his discipline with his own children as well as his students, requiring them to read music to play in the marching or concert bands. He also helped several of his students find a way to go to college. "If you didn't have the money, he would find a way to get you the money," former student Gloria Jones said. The result, middle son Antoine Able said, was several of his students playing in college marching bands across the country, and he said a few became the first black students to play in the University of Tennessee band. Jones said he took his students to visit a college when they were still in high school, recognizing that most of them had never been outside of their own Memphis neighborhoods. "He wanted to broaden our horizons," Jones said. "He wanted to expose us to the different cultures, the intellect, and all those things that make a person well-rounded and educated."

The oldest of Mr. Able's three children, LaTanya Able, said her father gave his students a vision for their own lives. "This man took people who didn't have hope and made them believe in themselves to want to become something," she said. The youngest of the three children, Emerson Able III, said their father emphasized music theory as much as he did playing an instrument. "We all have a huge appreciation and understanding of music even though we don't play professionally. The children said their father also painted, including murals that hang on their church wall.

Mr. Able's wife, Annie Able, died in 2011. They were married in 1954 and had three children and one grandchild.

DAVID WOOD

Dr. David Wood was introduced to band when he entered a 5th grade band class under the direction of Mr. Bill Watson in Milan, TN. In 1972, Mr. Pete Evans became the Milan High School band director and a life long friendship began. It was Mr. Evan's influence that convinced Dr. Wood to become a music educator.

An educator for more than 30 years, Dr. David Wood retired from teaching in 2014. Dr. Wood holds both Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of Tennessee at Martin, as well as a Doctor of Education degree from the University of Memphis.

Dr. Wood began his teaching career in 1980 at Dyer Middle School before moving to Trenton Peabody High School in 1982. Moving to the Memphis area in 1992, he served as the Director of Institutional Research for the State Technical Institute. Dr. Wood returned to the classroom in 1994, teaching at Mt. Pisgah Middle School in Cordova, TN. Over the next 20 years, his bands consistently received "Superior" ratings at local and regional festivals and competitions. In 2005, Dr. Wood was recognized as the teacher of the year for Mt. Pisgah Middle School, Shelby County Schools, and the Western Tennessee Region. He was one of nine finalists for the 2005 Teacher of Year for the state of Tennessee. Dr. Wood was a member and past officer of the West Tennessee School Band and Orchestra Association, serving as President from 2004-2006. While serving as a WTSBOA officer, he was the impetus for setting up the first WTSBOA website and moving the All West Band and Orchestra Clinics out of local high schools and into the Cannon Center. He was also a member of National Association for Music Education (NAFME) and the Tennessee Music Education Association (TMEA).

Dr. Wood resides in Mt. Juliet Tennessee with his wife Tammy and their two children Elizabeth and Connor. Tammy works for American President Lines, a global transportation company, as the Director of Military Billing and Accounting. Elizabeth attends Samford University where she is completing a Doctorate in Pharmacy. Connor attends Middle Tennessee State University as an Aerospace Engineering major.

DAVID RYAN

David Ryan began his music career as an 8th grade trombone player in the Messick Band under the leadership of T.W. Swayzee. As a high school senior, he was selected 1st chair trombonist for the All-West Honor Band and the All-State Band. College degrees include Bachelor of Music Education, Master in Secondary Education and Master in Administration from Memphis State University.

During his teaching career, he taught at Messick Junior and Senior High, Tigrett Junior High, Overton High, Bolton High, Ellendale Elementary, Oak Elementary, Arlington Elementary, Tara Oaks Elementary, Collierville Middle (10 years) and Arlington Middle (10 years). He also served as assistant principal at Schilling Farms Middle School.

Mr. Ryan is a past-president of WTSBOA and has chaired every WTSBOA event and served on numerous All-State committees. Professional memberships include Phi- Mu-Alpha, Phi Beta Mu, TBA, TMEA, WTSBOA and the National Association for Music Education. As clinician and adjudicator he has directed numerous honor bands including those at the University of Memphis and the University of Tennessee in Knoxville.

In 1984, David received the ASBDA Stanbury Award for Tennessee and the Stanbury Award for the southeastern region of the United States. Mr. Ryan served as conductor for President George W. H. Bush's "1000 Points of Light" program in 1989. Other awards include the "Outstanding Teacher Award" from the Tennessee Governor's School, Memphis Partners "Exemplary Teacher Award", Memphis Symphony Orchestra "Music Educator of the Year Award" in 2011 and the Amro Music "Walk of Fame" in 2014. He has written over 100 concert band pieces and is the author of "Time for Band" and "Time for Rhythm". During his last 10 years at Arlington Middle School, his students received many national awards for concert performance, but he says his career highlights also include teaching all three of his daughters in band class and seeing many of his former students become band directors and professional musicians.

David and his wife Judy have three daughters and five grandchildren. Two of their daughters, Mary Beth and Melody are on staff at animal hospitals in Dyersburg and Nashville. The Ryan's oldest daughter, Amy is currently the principal horn player in the Lone Star Wind Symphony.

Terry Jolley serves as a guest conductor, clinician, and adjudicator throughout the Southeast, and is an active consultant for numerous bands. Terry is the Conductor Emeritus of the Tennessee Valley Winds: an adult community band based in Murfreesboro, TN. His company, Jolley & Associates, Inc., provides educational support to many high school and college bands throughout the region and is a sponsor of a regional leadership camp, Positive Performance Concepts. He is a published drill designer with Arranger's Publishing Company and has published arrangements with Row-loff Productions. He has held several positions over an eighteen-year span with The Governor's School for the Arts including Director and has served as the production coordinator and arranger for the Memphis Sound Drum & Bugle Corps.

Mr. Jolley has been awarded four citations of excellence by the National Band Association, was selected to Who's Who Among American Teachers on four occasions, was the recipient of the National Collegiate Music Award in 1998, and was inducted into the MTSU Band of Blue Club Hall of Fame in 2000.

Mr. Jolley was recruited as the Supervisor of the Extended School Program for Murfreesboro City Schools, which involved over 3,000 students from K-6. In addition to his time in Administration and Development, he spent over twenty years in the music education profession at multiple levels of instruction. He also enjoyed serving as the Associate Director of bands at Middle Tennessee State University. Mr. Jolley is currently serving as the Minister of Music & Worship at Northside Baptist Church in Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

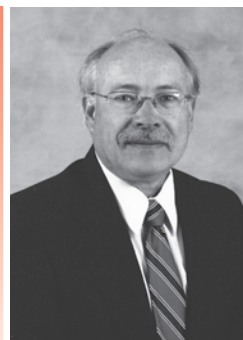

He has also enjoyed 17 years of marriage to Alison, who is a registered nurse at Middle Tennessee Medical Center. Terry & Alison are blessed with a beautiful daughter, Ava, who is currently a fifth grade student at Redeemer Christian Academy in Murfreesboro.

A native of Philadelphia, MS, Kevin Cole received his Bachelor and Masters of Music Education degree from the University of Mississippi. He taught for 35 years in Mississippi public schools before retiring in 2010. His last tenure was at Lafayette High School in Oxford, MS with his wife Beverly.

Mr. Cole has served as President of the Northeast MS High School and Junior High Band Directors Association. He worked as a staff member with the Mississippi Lions All-State Band. He has been a clinician and adjudicator throughout the mid-south. He works with many band programs in north Mississippi as a consultant helping them prepare for upcoming events. Mr. Cole is an extended staff member with the University of Mississippi Band working primarily with the UM Wind Ensemble.

Kevin Cole has received the George Henry Schultz Outstanding Band Director Award, Phi Beta Mu Outstanding Band Master Award for the state of Mississippi, and has been inducted into the NEMBDA Band Director Hall of Fame. He is a member of Phi Beta Mu and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia.

He and his wife Beverly reside in Oxford, MS where they enjoy traveling and being with their many grandchildren.

Sarah Labovitz is currently the Associate Director of Bands/Director of Athletic Bands at Arkansas State University-Jonesboro. She directs the Symphonic Band and the ASU athletic bands, teaches instrumental music education and conducting, and supervises student teachers. Prior to her appointment at ASU, Dr. Labovitz served as the Assistant Director of Bands at Washburn University.

Dr. Labovitz received her Bachelors of Music Education from Bowling Green State University. Her Masters of Music Education from Indiana University and a Doctorate of Musical Arts for University of Kansas. Dr. Labovitz holds memberships in National Association for Music Education, College Band Directors National Association, National Band Association, College Music Society and Sigma Alpha Iota Music Sorority.

Dr. Labovitz is an active guest conductor and clinician, as well as a contributing author to the Teaching Music Through Performance in Band series. Her public school experience includes serving as Director of Bands at Athens High School in Athens, OH and Director of Instrumental Music at Admiral King High School in Lorain, OH.

Craig S. Cornish is the Director of Athletic Bands and Director of the Band of Blue Marching Band at Middle Tennessee State University. His responsibilities include serving as conductor of the M.T.S.U. Symphonic Band, coordinator of the athletic bands, and teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in music education.

Prior to coming to Murfreesboro, Cornish held a similar position at the University of Nebraska – Lincoln. He was honored for his efforts at Nebraska as a four-time recipient of the Outstanding Contribution to Students Award. In 2007, Professor Cornish was recognized with the MTSU Foundation Outstanding Teaching Award, an honor bestowed on less than one percent of the MTSU Faculty. Recently, Professor Cornish was named "Professor of the Month" by the Lambda Sigma National Honor Society, and "Favorite MTSU Professor" by the Daily News Journal Ruthies Awards.

Before joining the faculty at Nebraska, Cornish spent sixteen years in Kentucky directing high school bands. His high school bands received many honors and awards, including a performance at the 1988 Mid-West International Band and Orchestra Clinic.

Holding his undergraduate and graduate music education degrees from the University of Kentucky, Cornish is a member and Immediate Past President of the Middle Tennessee State Band and Orchestra Association, the National Band Association, the Music Educators National Conference, the Tennessee Music Educators Association, Phi Beta Mu, and is an honorary member of Kappa Kappa Psi and Pi Kappa Lambda. He is active as a conductor, clinician and adjudicator throughout the United States.

John Fannin was appointed Assistant Director of Bands at Murray State University in 1995. His responsibilities at Murray State include Symphonic Band, Concert Band, Pep Band, Marching Band, and instrumental music education classes. Under Mr. Fannin's leadership, the Racer Marching Band has grown from 85 to 300 members. The MSU Racer Marching Band was featured at the 2012 & 2006 Bands of America Grand National Marching Band Championships.

Prior to his appointment at Murray State University, Mr. Fannin was band director at Onate High School (NM), Del Norte High School (NM), White Sand Missile Range Middle School (NM), Thoreau High School (NM), and Ganado High School (AZ).

Mr. Fannin's awards include the 2010 Murray State University Distinguished Professor, 2009 KMEA "University Teacher of the Year", 2006-2007 Outstanding Murray State University Music Teacher of the Year, and the Phi Beta Mu 2007 "Outstanding Contributor to Band in KY."

John also serves as creative resource (music and visual) for many high school and college bands. He has published concert band works with Arrangers Publishing Company, Curnow Music Press, and Alfred Music Company.

Mr. Fannin is an active band clinician and guest conductor. He has been a guest conductor/clinician in New Mexico, Texas, Missouri, Tennessee, Arkansas, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, New York, Florida, Georgia, and Kentucky.

Dr. David A. Waybright received his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees at Marshall University and the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in orchestral conducting from the Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music. He taught initially at Wahama High School in Mason, West Virginia and since that time has served as Director of Bands at Ferrum College, Plymouth State College, and Director of Bands and Orchestra at McNeese State University. Dr. Waybright is currently Director of Bands at the University of Florida, where he holds the rank of professor and is the head of the conducting area. He directs the wind symphony and supervises the band program and the graduate and undergraduate conducting curricula. Dr. Waybright is in demand as a guest conductor and clinician with wind bands, orchestras, and choirs, and has appeared in that capacity in most of the 50 states, throughout Europe, South America, Asia and Australia. He has held residencies at many of the nation's leading music schools. In addition, he is active in the commissioning and performance of new music and has won the praise of composers such as Dana Wilson, Michael Torke, Donald Grantham, John Corigliano and Leslie Bassett for his interpretation of their works. There are many recordings available featuring the University of Florida Wind Symphony under his direction. He is founder and principal conductor for the American Chamber Winds, a professional touring and recording ensemble. Dr. Waybright is an elected member of the American Bandmasters Association where he has served on the Board of Directors for two terms and is a Past President of the organization. (2013-14) He is a lifetime member of the World Association of Symphonic Bands and Ensembles. He is also a member of the College Band Director's National Association, Music Educators National Convention and Florida Music Educators Association. Ensembles under his direction have performed invited concerts at conferences sponsored by all of those organizations. Dr. Waybright is also a member of Pi Kappa Lambda and an honorary member of Phi Mu Alpha, Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi. He is a National Arts Associate honorary of Sigma Alpha Iota.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11

2:00 PM Modern Music for the Modern Student Nashville Room
Clinician: Dr. Armand Hall (University of Memphis) & Dr. Leah McGray (Rhodes College)

Programming experimental and non-traditional music is often a challenge for the school band and orchestra conductor. Performing music that encourages composition through the use of non-traditional notation, develops individual musicianship through improvisation, or creates student engagement through the integration of technology fosters higher-order thinking in the student musician. This session will sample repertoire from a variety of levels, highlighting elements of graphic notation, aleatory music, found percussion, improvisation, electroacoustic treatments, and minimalist techniques. Suggestions of score preparation and pedagogic strategies will assist educators in maximizing their student's performance of "the music of now."

3:15 PM The Trombonist's Toolbox: Essential Skills for the Developing Trombonist Nashville Room
Clinician: Dr. Joseph W. Frye (University of Tennessee at Martin)

This session will deal with identifying and understanding key fundamental skills that students and directors should be establishing and developing in order to improve trombone performance in individual and ensemble settings. The session will also provide suggestions regarding implementation of the toolbox and provide observations about common deficiencies observed in many first-year university students.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12

8:45 AM Powerful Stuff: Techniques of Charismatic Conducting Nashville Room
Clinician: Dr. Leah McGray (Rhodes College)

The effectiveness of a conductor is often dependent on their natural ability to create a charismatic presence. Charismatic leaders connect and respond quickly with others, display personal strength of will, and inspire people higher levels of thinking and performance, which are also the characteristics of exceptional conductors and educators. While it has long been believed that personal charisma is an inherited and fixed quantity, current research have identified traits and behaviors that increase an individual's perceived charisma and power. This paper will provide a summary of these traits, and draw correlations between the strategies designed for management training and the techniques used to create gestures of musical meaning. Conductors for any level of experience or group will be able to apply these strategies to increase the effectiveness of their presence on the podium by tapping in to one's authentic self, and utilize physical posture and non-verbal communication to create greater responsiveness from your performing ensemble.

10:00 AM Empathizing With Your Percussionists Nashville Room
Clinician: Ryan Wilkerson (Henry County High School)

The session will focus mostly on the beginning percussionists, but everything will be applicable to middle school and high school. There are reasons other than "not counting," "not practicing," or "lazy technique" that could be holding your percussionists back. We will explore these reasons as they relate to snare drum rolls, correct stickings, sight-reading mallet music, subdividing, and more. Wilkerson will cover SIMPLE things you can do on a daily basis that will make a big impact with your students and how to rewrite percussion music to improve the quality of life for yourself and your students.

School of Performing Arts

We would like to congratulate the students who made All-West and continue the tradition of 30 Years of Excellence and Opportunities made possible through Bellevue's School of Performing Arts.
